

"He That Stays Does the Business."

All the world admires "staying power." On this quality success depends. The blood is the best friend the heart has, and "faint heart" never won anything. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the best friend the blood ever had; it cleanses the blood of everything.

If you would be strong in the race of life and "do the business," you must "stay." Hood's Sarsaparilla makes the struggle easy. It gives clear, strong blood; hence perfect health ensues.

Hives.—The itching of hives which troubled me last summer was terrible; blotches came all over my body. Hood's Sarsaparilla and Hood's Pills cured me. Mrs. MARY INBOTT, 233 South Wolf St., Baltimore, Md.

All Run Down.—"I was as tired in the morning as at night, had no ambition, weak and run down. Three bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla built me up and cured me. Can eat well and sleep well." Mrs. CHAS. MEYER, 418 Madison St., Sandusky, Ohio.

Female Troubles.—"I would have welcomed death any time as a relief from the pain of the womb and other serious troubles. The best physicians said my case was hopeless. I stopped taking everything else and took Hood's Sarsaparilla. New life came to me and I gained until I am perfectly well and strong." Mrs. EMMA J. FISHER, Lonedell, Missouri.

THE OWOSSO TIMES.
EDMUND O. DEWEY, Editor.

OWOSSO, MICH., FRIDAY, MARCH 24, 1899.

Congressman Fordney recently told the able editor of THE OWOSSO TIMES that he might be the next postmaster of Owosso with a salary of $3500 a year; and straightway Mrs. Dewey presented him with a little daughter to brighten his way. Congratulations, E. O., you deserve it all—Mt. Pleasant Enterprise.

The press of the State congratulate the gallant, genial Col. E. J. March of the Hillside Leader on his appointment as postmaster. —Cedar Springs Clipper. What's the matter Bro. Sellers in making it a general trio, in adding Will Cook, of the Hastings Banner and Ed. Dewey of THE OWOSSO TIMES. No better in the state. —Reed City Clarion.

Resignation Accepted.

The Zanesville, Ohio, Courier last Saturday contained the news of the acceptance by the congregation of the First Congregational church in that city, of the resignation of Rev. Carlos H. Hanks. The meeting was held in the church parlors Friday evening for the purpose of formally accepting the resignation, and after several brief addresses from various members in which esteem for Mr. Hanks and regret at his departure were expressed, the following resolutions were adopted:

WHEREAS, Our beloved pastor, Rev. Carlos H. Hanks, has chosen to dissolve the relations which for the past five and one-half years have united him to this church as pastor, and he having received a call to another field of labor, therefore be it

Resolved, That we, the members of the First Congregational church, of Zanesville, Ohio, assembled together this seventeenth day of March, 1899, do hereby express our profound regret for the loss of an able minister, a kind, affectionate and sympathetic pastor and a generous, warm hearted friend to all, and a most earnest worker whose well directed efforts have been instrumental in bringing into the church about one hundred and eighty members.

Also, that we express to Mrs. Hanks a hearty appreciation of the many kindnesses she has shown this church and Sunday school in the past as a member of the music committee, teacher, etc.

Also, that we tender to the retiring pastor and his estimable wife our best wishes for their continued prosperity and happiness.

Also, that this church accedes to his resignation with much regret and desires to put on record its high appreciation of his services during his ministering to church and people and assure him of our prayerful remembrance in his new field of labor.

Study It Out.

Here is a highly interesting paradox, which may amuse or bewilder, as the case may be. It is supposed to have been invented by Socrates: A says that all Athenians are liars. A is an Athenian and therefore a liar. Therefore his statement that all Athenians are liars is not true, and consequently all Athenians tell the truth. A is an Athenian, and hence tells the truth. Wherefore his statement that all Athenians are liars is true. Therefore he is a liar and his statement false, and so on.

Force of Waves.

In a high gale mile long waves, 300 feet from trough to trough and 40 feet high, roar along the sea at the rate of 20 miles an hour, with a weight of 60,000 pounds for every foot of their length.

Upon these a 600 foot ship, such as the New York or the Paris, will rise like a floating leaf, but if the ill fated ship drifts upon a lee shore blows of 100,000 tons, delivered with remorseless fury, crush it like an eggshell.

ASK YOUR DOCTOR!

Ask your physician this question, "What is the one great remedy for consumption?" He will answer, "Cod-liver oil." Nine out of ten will answer the same way.

Yet when persons have consumption they loathe all fatty foods, yet fat is necessary for their recovery and they cannot take plain cod-liver oil. The plain oil disturbs the stomach and takes away the appetite. The disagreeable fishy odor and taste make it almost unendurable. What is to be done? This question was answered when we first made of Cod-Liver Oil with Hypophosphites. Although that was nearly twenty-five years ago, yet it stands alone today the one great remedy for all affections of the throat and lungs.

The bad taste and odor have been taken away, the oil itself has been partly digested, and the most sensitive stomach objects to it rarely. Not one in ten can take and digest the plain oil. Nine out of ten can take SCOTT'S EMULSION and digest it. That's why it cures so many cases of early consumption. Even in advanced cases it brings comfort and greatly prolongs life.

SECOND ANNUAL MEETING.

The Fat Man's Cycle Touring Club Meets with I. H. Keeler—Sumptuous Dinner—Election of Officers.

From the Owosso Press:

Abo (the only reason the Fat Man's Cycle Touring Club has for holding an annual election is that it affords one more opportunity for having a banquet during the year; and in accordance with the custom of former years the club members were summoned to appear at the home of Fat Man I. H. Keeler, Friday evening, March 17th, for the purpose of holding the annual election and to dispose of such other business as should properly or improperly come before the club in the form of anything to eat or drink.

Rare indeed are the occasions when the fat men banquet without the ladies, but the early stages of the annual election being secret, it was of necessity strictly a stag affair, a circumstance much regretted by every member of the club.

At 7 o'clock seventeen members of the club sat down to an elegant dinner served by Mrs. I. H. Keeler and daughter, Miss Bernice. Each guest wore a shamrock, and the table was made beautiful by a generous use of cut flowers. The next two hours were spent in doing ample justice to the sumptuous eight-course dinner.

Fat Man J. W. Simmons, who had not met with the club during the past year and who had traveled from Ypsilanti to attend the annual election, was called upon after dinner to give an account of himself, which he did to the entire satisfaction of all present except Fat Men Hunt and Parkill, who were anxious for an opportunity to cross examine the speaker, but their requests were promptly denied by the president.

A letter from Fat Man J. C. Cromer, of St. Louis, Mo., was read by the secretary and listened to with much interest.

Rev. Cromer and Prof. Simmons were voted a life honorary membership. They with Rev. Matteson make up the list of honorary members.

The sole purpose of the organization being to allow no opportunity of eating to escape and to exchange views on how to live without losing flesh, it was somewhat difficult to find members who were willing to assume the responsibilities of the several offices. President A. M. Bentley was offered the job for another year with a prospect of a raise in salary but he declined and I. H. Keeler was elected by a unanimous vote. Chas. E. Rigley was re-elected vice president, and George B. McCaugha was elected secretary and treasurer. C. W. Gale and E. Wykes were elected members of the executive committee to act with other officers.

The secretary's report showed among many other secrets a very enjoyable year as a club, and a cash balance of $6.40, an increase of $6.30 over the balance at the last annual election. Plans were adopted for the coming season and an invitation from Bro. Simmons to visit Ypsilanti at some future date was accepted with a whoop.

St. Patrick's day was well nigh spent when by unanimous consent a resolution was adopted declaring Bro. Keeler the prince of entertainers, and a vote of thanks to his estimable wife and charming daughter, after which the fat men departed for home to wait for spring and good wheeing.

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup seems especially adapted to the needs of the children. Pleasant to take; soothing in its influence. It is the remedy of all remedies for every form of throat and lung disease.

Easy Way to Be Generous.

In the Baptist church of a New England village was an old man who had all the Christian graces save one, and that one was the grace of liberality. He would do anything in the world for the cause of religion but give up his money. At the close of the financial year 1898 the church found itself $400 in debt. A church meeting was called, and it was voted to circulate a subscription paper on the spot and endeavor to thus raise the sum needed. This was done, and the old gentleman did not put his name on the paper. The result was rather disheartening, $200 only having been pledged. Silence reigned for a moment, when one of the most generous men in the church moved that "we double our subscriptions." Instantly the old gentleman was on his feet, and with extraordinary fervor cried, "I second the motion."

He evidently felt that he was thus doing his part in hastening a most desirable result.—Harper's Round Table.

What Love Is.

Miss Sophie Loury employs an exceedingly communicative old colored man to attend to odd jobs about her studio row and then, and his sayings have become proverbial among Miss Loury's familiars. He came to work one day not long ago very full of the goings on of a young man he knew, who was in love.

"But what is love, uncle?" asked Miss Loury.

Uncle wagged his head wisely. "Miss Sophie," he said solemnly, "love is dizziness, unreason and inattention to business."

And really I don't know of any definition more concise, complete and altogether adequate than that.—Washington Post.

LaGrippe's Legacy.

Worn out and exhausted in body and mind, with shattered nerves and a palpitating heart; no desire for food and no ability to digest it; unable to rest or sleep day or night this is LaGrippe's legacy. Long after the grip germs have been driven out the poisons which they create remain in the blood, the heart, the lungs, the stomach, weakening the nerves and lowering the vitality of the system. There is one way of destroying the seeds of disease and death which are an inheritance from grip Dr. Miles' Nerve will do it. It gives the shattered nerves a rest and helps them to recover their strength. It stimulates the appetite, strengthens the stomach, assists assimilation and fills the blood with the vital elements of life.

"Two years ago, after a severe attack of the grip, I was overcome with nervous prostration, heart trouble and nervous dyspepsia. I was so low that I could not bear to be spoken to, and during the nervous spasms which I frequently suffered, I had no control of any of my organs. Every remedy known to my physicians was tried without success and then my wife bought me a bottle of Dr. Miles' Nerve. After using one bottle I could speak a few words. At the end of three months I could talk quite naturally and now I am completely cured of the trouble."

GEO. A. ANDREWS,
Great Barrington, Mass. C.

A trial package of Dr. Miles' favorite treatment for the grip, consisting of Dr. Miles' Nerve, Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills and Dr. Miles' Nerve and Liver Pills, will be sent absolutely free of cost to any person sending name and address on a postal card, requesting the samples, and mentioning the name of this paper.
